NDIS WORKER CHECK – NOTICE OF CLEARANCE

The Central Assessment Unit (DHS Screening Unit) has completed your NDIS worker check application and has determined to issue you an NDIS worker check clearance. This means you are permitted to work with people with disability in any roles that require an NDIS clearance.

Important things to note:

- Your NDIS worker check clearance is valid for 5 years from the date it takes effect, unless sooner cancelled.
- Your clearance commences on the commencement date, or if you hold a current NDIS worker check clearance, the date on which your existing clearance expires.
- Your NDIS worker check clearance is portable and can be used in all States and Territories in Australia.
- Your NDIS worker check will be registered on a national NDIS database and shared with your current NDIS employer/s or any new NDIS employers. This includes any future changes to your NDIS worker check status.
- You must advise the Central Assessment Unit if your personal details change (name, address, email, phone number). You can keep your personal details up to date by visiting our website and following the change of details link.

Volunteer NDIS worker check

- If you applied for a free volunteer check, you can only use this for volunteer roles.
- If you start work in a paid employment role, you will need to pay a fee within 28 days of starting paid work to upgrade to a paid NDIS worker check.
- You only need to do this if the paid work will be for more than seven days in a calendar year. For more information visit the Screening Unit webpage.
- Please note that if you fail to comply with this requirement you are guilty of an offence that attracts a fine of up to $5,000.
- To upgrade your check please email dhsscreeningunit@sa.gov.au or call 1300 321 592.

Monitoring

- NDIS worker check clearance holders are subject to ongoing national monitoring.
- The Central Assessment Unit may reassess your NDIS worker check clearance based on new information it receives which includes, but is not limited to, criminal history information obtained from Australian Police Agencies and Courts, workplace misconduct records, and South Australian child protection matters.
- The Central Assessment Unit may contact you in relation to this information. The Central Assessment Unit will also notify you if your clearance is cancelled for any reasons under the Disability Inclusion Act 2018 (SA).
